Discussion papers for consultation

Industry Engagement in Training Package Development – Towards a Contestable Model Discussion Paper
Seeks views and suggestions about contestable approaches to the development of training packages which guide industry-directed vocational education and training in Australia.

Visit the Industry Engagement in Training Package Development – Towards a Contestable Model discussion paper publication page to download the discussion paper and for further information about providing feedback.

Review of Training Packages and Accredited Courses Discussion Paper

Is designed to start the conversation with industry, employers, training providers and students about whether training packages and accredited courses are meeting their needs and the needs of the economy more broadly.

Visit the Review of Training Packages and Accredited Courses discussion paper publication page to download the discussion paper and for further information about providing feedback.

Learning Hub - November webinar

The first international webinar presenter on the Learning Hub: the amazing Ann Pelo, direct from the US.

Anne gave an inspirational keynote address at the ECA National Conference in Melbourne in September, and ECA wish to share her insights with the Learning Hub audience.

Two possibilities: Friday 21 or Saturday 22 November, both at 12.00pm. Registrations will open in early November.

Guide to Training

This new Tasmanian Guide to Training in Education and Care will be published and officially launched this month. Implementation workshops will be held in each region of the state during Feb 2015. Participants at these free workshops will receive a copy of the guide.

Next Roundtable - A Special Event

On Wednesday the 11th Feb there will be a special Roundtable meeting between the Education and Care sector and RTOs. At the meeting participants will break into collaborative working groups to explore issues of interest and relevance. In coming weeks we will be sending out a draft agenda and calling for participants. This meeting will be an open forum and we would encourage representatives from across the sector to attend.

Community Child Care Co-Operative Inc. are a not for profit organisation established to promote, support and advocate for early education and care services. They write a number of publications and have produced a range of resources including podcasts and videos. They are also the contractor who has been responsible for publishing our upcoming Guide to Training.

Bachelor of Child and Family Studies

This degree is now available online through Griffith University. The degree would suit educators wanting to specialise in working with children and families such as those working as lead educators in child care, or in family support or in child protection who live a long distance from a university or who are unable to attend face to face classes on campus. There are pathways for people who already have diplomas or advanced diplomas.
